

National Development Teams Swimmer Participation Fee Structure

Swimming Canada continues to require a participation fee from all swimmers who are selected to take part in Swimming Canada Development Team activities. Swimming Canada aspires to create alignment and consistency across the Development Team activities in the participant fee.

Development Team participation fees are directed to the specific activity for which they are collected. The fee allows for the best experience for the Swimmers and is used to ensure all areas within the team operate at full capacity and provide a world-class development level experience.

- What: After a review of the existing fee schedule, which was based on location, a change to a participation fee based on location and number of nights has been implemented.
- Who: The participation fee is applicable to all Olympic and Paralympic program Development Pool and Open Water Teams including Games, Domestic or International competitions, camps. The Development Team participation fee does not apply to those in the Para Swimming Sport Classes 1-5.
- When: The fee structure implementation is currently in place.
- How: Prior to an event, the participant is invoiced by Swimming Canada, payment is due prior to the start date of the activity.
