【3 Hotel Information】

Although we request that participants make arrangements for their stay in Kyushu for the World Aquatics Masters Championships on their own, a World Championships affiliated travel agent is also selling accommodations plans specifically for Masters participants. We highly recommend utilising this service.

There are also plans to offer a bus service (advanced booking required) which runs from transport hubs to the venues. By using this worry-free bus service, your travel time to the venue will be much shorter and more punctual compared to public transport, and the ride guidance service provided by staff ensures a safe and comfortable ride.

Details such as pricing are still yet to be finalised.

We will notify you once details on the start of the sale of these bus tickets have been finalised.

【4 Cuisine】

As a “Gateway to Asia”, Fukuoka City is a leading city in Japan with many land, sea, and air regional transportation functions clustered together.

Of late, Fukuoka City has been gathering global attention for its delicious cuisine, with both the Lonely Planet and New York Times selecting Fukuoka City as a must-visit place in this category. We recommend that athletes travelling to Fukuoka for the World Aquatics Masters Championships thoroughly explore Fukuoka’s rich cuisine, including the yatai (photo①), ramen (photo②), motsunabe (photo③), sushi (photo④), and tempura (photo⑤). There are also many restaurants that offer all-you-can-drink courses at a reasonable price (usually a 90 min. to 2 hr. all-you-can-drink course).
